Aims of education

The primary aims of a marine casualty investigation is to gather information that could be used to prevent future accidents. The lecture aims to present the standards of international maritime law and the European Union shipping law in the context of preventing marine accidents as well as minimizing their consequences. The course covers several essential legal aspects of investigating the causes and circumstances of marine casualties and the appropriate formulation of safety recommendations by the investigating body appointed to investigate marine casualties to reduce the risk of an accident to an acceptable level, and discusses spectacular maritime accidents.

Course contents

1. Introduction and terminology: very serious casualty, serious casualty, marine incident
2. Catastrophic marine accidents (case study)
3. Principles governing the investigation of accidents in the maritime transport sector
4. Mandatory standards for marine safety investigations
5. Common methodology for investigating marine casualties and incidents
6. Permanent Cooperation Framework for the Investigation of Accidents in the Maritime Transport Sector
7. Safety recommendations
8. European database for marine casualties
9. Fair treatment of seafarers
10. Safety investigation report content
